Dropping Pill (Probiotic)

Highly protective: Three-layer embedding protection technology, free from stomach acid, bile and other digestive fluids, improves the survival rate of probiotics when they reach the intestinal tract.

High bioavailability: It can be targeted and effectively released in the intestinal tract to improve bioavailability and better exert its effect on intestinal health.

Stability improvement: The special three-layer embedding technology makes the contents less susceptible to temperature, humidity, and air, effectively improving the survival rate of probiotics during the shelf life and allowing the product to maintain activity for a longer period of time.
